Sudoservice is the marine industry's go-to for technical maintenance. Since 1989, we have provided unparalleled support to shipowners, keeping their most important assets in top condition.

We provide customised spare parts, repair and product solutions for demanding tasks in shipbuilding and repair. These include, in particular, spare parts for engines, stern tube seals, pumps, separators, and filters, as well as everything related to safety at sea.

Sudoservice is the pinnacle of customer focus and progressive thinking, proudly based in Hamburg. We are known for quality, reliability and creativity. We operate worldwide, on time and within budget.

Our business partners appreciate this, including Wärtsilä Shaft Line Solutions, Moteurs Baudouin, Gefico Water Treatment Solutions and Headway Ballast Water Management Systems. They have entrusted us with the distribution of their products in Germany.

In addition to high-quality spare parts, we also supply complete systems and equipment as an original representative. Our technically competent consultants work with you to develop customized solutions that meet your requirements.

We also offer maintenance and repair services for your equipment and systems—either on-site or in our workshop, depending on your needs. Our service staff are highly experienced and each one is an expert in their field.

Holistic service from a single source!

In 2013, I followed in the footsteps of my father, Andre Jeznach. He founded Sudoservice in 1989 and built it into a successful business. I am proud to continue the more than 30-year history of our family business.

As a family business, we value our roots while also thinking in a cosmopolitan and future-oriented way. Our corporate culture is defined by honesty, trust and respect.

Our small team has flat hierarchies and quick decision-making processes. This allows us to act quickly at all times.

From the very beginning, our corporate philosophy has been to be close to our customers and their individual requirements. My father always emphasized: Nothing is impossible!

We invest continuously in our employees and our equipment to ensure a high level of service. This allows us to confidently meet any challenge.

Our goal is to raise our standards even higher to provide our customers with the best possible experience when they use our services.

Mark Jeznach, General Manager
